

Case Study: Project Interiors

Industry: Interior Design Firm

Location: Chicago, IL

Results

The fundamental features of the project management solution such as project stage tracking, a shared space for pending tasks, and seamless client collaboration in one place, provided immediate benefits to the entire Project Interiors team. Prioritizing ease of use and simplicity in implementation ensured fast adaptation by the team and accuracy of information stored within the project manager application. Through collaboration with the management team, we introduced dashboards for a quick overview and templates to ensure consistency in project tracking.

The best feedback we received during one of the training sessions was that project management had transformed into a highly effective assistant for each team member, essentially doubling their productivity.

By implementing the right tool, the right way, and at the right pace, we achieved these remarkable results. We're delighted with the results that our IT support solutions have given to Project Interiors and look forward to continuing our rewarding IT services partnership.
